The Fjällnäs Castle

The Fjällnäs Castle

The Fjällnäs Castle is an outstanding building located on the outskirts of Gällivare, on a gentle hill overlooking the city. Gällivare is situated in Norrbotten, the northernmost tip of Sweden, about 120 km above the Arctic Circle and certainly one of Europe's last wildernesses.

Gällivare, which is the gateway to Swedish Lapland, has about 20.000 inhabitants and is famous for its important copper and iron ore mines.

The Fjällnäs Castle was built in 1892 by a Swedish gentleman, Karl Otto Bergman, owner of some iron ore mines in the Region. It is the biggest wooden Castle in the north of Sweden and it is considered a national monument.

The interiors Harmony and attention to detail

The Fjallnas Castle Resort offers accommodation for up to 28 guests in seven luxury apartments, realized with great care. Each apartment is identified by the name of a precious stone, which reflects the predominant colour with which the interior of each apartment has been decorated.

All this has been realised without altering the original structures of the Castle, which was honoured by the presence of the King of Sweden in 1894 and by the entire Swedish Government in 1988.

Its shape, in particular the two side towers, gives the impression of a fairy tale castle, especially in its winter version, from November to April, when a soft layer of snow covers the surrounding park creating a magical atmosphere.

Facilities At the service of your wellbeing

At the Fjällnäs Castle, you will find classy accommodations and all modern comforts. Each apartment has a kitchen-living area, a LCD TV set with satellite dish, a DVD player and free high-speed wireless internet access.

At the Restaurant, situated at the ground floor, you will enjoy the best dishes of the Swedish tradition as well as a selection of Italian recipes. All this will quickly revitalise your body from a day full of activities and emotions.

In the Fjällnäs Castle there are also four saunas for the enjoyment and wellbeing of the guests.

At the Fjällnäs Castle you will be surrounded by an enchanting atmosphere which will make your vacation a very special one.

nature Revitalise yourself, in contact with nature

Lapland is the land of the Sami people who have inhabited this place for thousands of years. It is a nature's sanctuary and its territory has been declared World Heritage Site by Unesco in 1996.

This is a land of great contrasts: from high mountain peaks to deep mines, from absolute quiet to vibrant enjoyment, from exclusive luxury to what is unusual, simple.

One can enjoy both the northern lights and the midnight sun, have exciting adventures and experience history, ski world cup tracks and join children in Sweden's first Snowland theme park.

In Gällivare there is a very wide range of activities and adventures available, packaged to suit adventure seekers of all ages, either individually or with friends.

sport Enjoyment at 360°

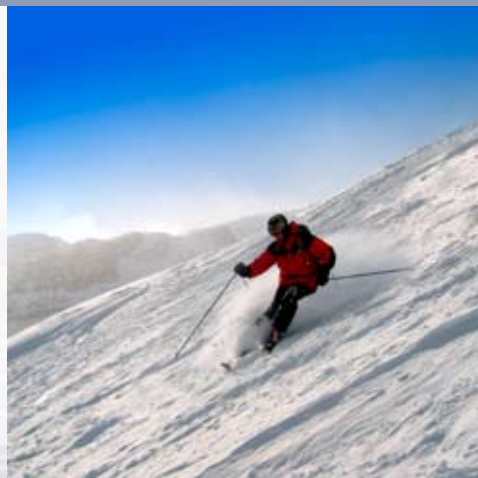

In Gällivare and the surrounding area it is possible to practice all kinds of winter sports, from the classic ones such as alpine and cross country skiing, to the most specialized and adventurous ones such as dog and reindeer sledging, snowmobile safaris and so on.

In summer, besides the “midnight sun”, Gällivare is famous for its magnificent hiking trails and for its great fishing sites, in one of the thousand rivers and lakes of the Region which comprises three National Parks.

From the 1st of September, throughout the end of November, the hunting season is at its best and offers unbelievable opportunities for the lovers of this sport.

Folklore

The magical atmosphere of an unforgettable land

Gällivare is an attractive destination for tourists who love the wilderness and open spaces and who love close encounters with reindeers and moose in their natural habitat. This is the perfect location to live a unique and unforgettable experience.

The landscape is beautiful and in winter the sky is often brightened by the northern lights; the snow is so bright that its reflection is able to illuminate the darkness of the long night at these extreme latitudes.

Furthermore, the local population is extremely warm and hospitable, happy to interact with people coming from different social and cultural environments.

contacts

How to reach us:

Gällivare is easy to reach although it is situated more than 100 km north of the Arctic Circle, in the heart of the Swedish Lapland.

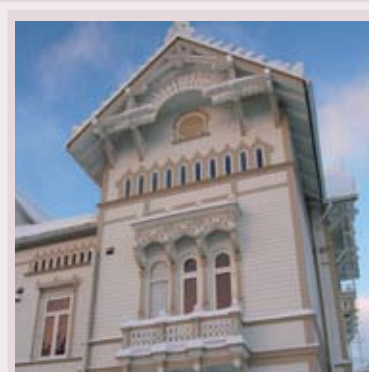

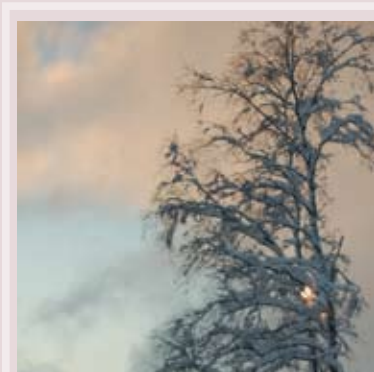

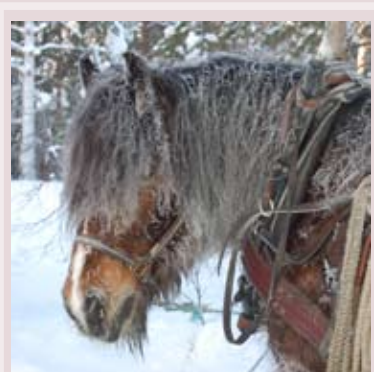

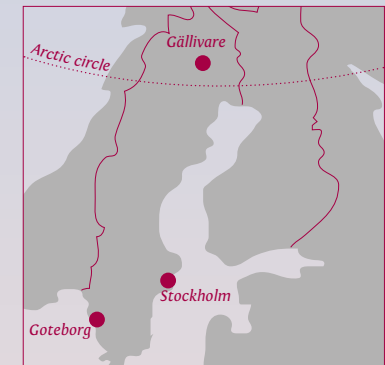

By air: Gällivare has an airport, connected with Stockholm by daily flights;

By train: The night train from Stockholm leaves about mid-day and reaches Gällivare the morning after. The inland railway is another alternative during the summer with something to experience en route.

By car: For those who want to travel by car there are several routes but, due to weather conditions, it is not advisable during the winter season.
